SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

MEMBERS OF THE PIERMONT SCHOOL BOARD:

According to the contract with the supervisory district of which Piermont is a part, I am obliged to give five-thirteenths or 19% of my time to your town. During the two terms past I have spent eighteen and one-half days visiting your schools, making in that time forty-nine visits of various lengths. The day given to the state institute in Piermont may also be counted with this time. As no schools have been in session more than a hundred days, I have fulfilled that part of my duty very exactly.

Your town is to be congratulated on the excellent condition of its school buildings. No large repairs are needed on any building out of the village. The village schoolroom will soon be in need of new floors, new paint and minor repairs, and could be improved in several ways, such as lowering the blackboards in the primary room to the children's level, providing running water, putting a basement under the building, and heating with a furnace. The furnace should pay for itself in economy of fuel.

Your board at sometime in the past took an important forward step in adopting a course of study, but the passage of time, change of text books and methods, etc., has rendered it obsolete, and it would be well to replace it with the state program of studies, copies of which are in the hands of the teachers. With your approval, I shall take further steps to bring the schools in line with the system there given. It is appropriate to note here that no system will run itself, but needs the constant, undivided attention of a capable guide. Furthermore, a program and superintendent do not at once make new schools, for each school and each child must be led toward the ideal by short steps and gradual change. The most that can be claimed at the beginning is that a more definite aim has been given. I know no reason why country schools should not produce as good results as those of the city, but we should remember that the cities have forty or fifty years the start of us.

For some reason the supply of text books and school apparatus has become very meager in quantity and poor in condition. I strongly urge that a considerable sum be expended for text books, maps, globes, teachers' aids, etc., including material for minor repairs to books; that a system of recording and accounting for books and permanent supplies be adopted; and that then the teachers and scholars be held closely responsible for the property in their care, even to the extent of a system of fines, if desired.

In closing, I would express my regret that sickness has so greatly interfered with attendance and progress. I wish also to commend the good work done by the teachers and thank both school board and teachers for the consideration and kindness with which my suggestions have been received and acted upon.

Respectfully submitted,

D. F. CARPENTER,

Superintendent.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

TO THE PIERMONT SCHOOL BOARD:

For the year beginning August 1 the portion of the superintendent's time assigned to Piermont remained the same as during the previous year. The weather and condition of the roads have made it more difficult to reach more distant parts of the town than last year, nevertheless that part of my duties has been fairly well carried out.

The school houses in the out districts are all in good order but constant watchfulness is needed to keep them so, especially in regard to the outbuildings. The needs of the village building remain as they were pointed out in the last annual report, except that your board has accomplished something in lowering the blackboards in the primary room and making a few minor repairs. The other needs, new paint, new floors, running water, furnace heat, etc., are mostly beyond the power of your board to supply without authority from the district. The number of scholars during the spring term was so large as to suggest the need of another room and a third teacher. This matter is of interest to your board and to the district, especially as the matter of bringing more children to the village school will need to be considered sometime.

In my monthly reports and in the last annual report I have frequently called your attention to the meager equipment of your schools. It is pleasant to record some improvement in this matter. Having been authorized by your board to expend not more than $75 in additions to school property, I have used it under your direction for the purchase of globes, supplementary reading, and a partial change of arithmetics, the Progressive Series being introduced. At this rate of improvement it will be several years before your schools have their needs supplied or even as much as may be found in other towns of similar size, but a good beginning has been made.

With the diminishing numbers of children in some districts the matter of conveyance of scholars is forced upon us as a necessity. Great pains should be taken that patrons have no reasonable ground of objection to the quality and efficiency of the service. Where any considerable number of children are to be carried, I believe it will prove more satisfactory if the district owns the wagons and fits them up properly. When transportation becomes necessary, people begin to understand the advantages and economy of a centralized school which will serve as many children in a region as possible. The experience of the town of Warren for the past year should be of interest. In their village school three teachers have received about $10 per month or one third higher salary than three teachers in out schools. At the same time the cost per child in the village school including all transportation, has been about $7 or one-third less for the year than in the small schools. Increased salary means better service in the long run.

Attendance of scholars has been better this year than last. Sickness has been somewhat prevalent, but no school has suffered as some did last year. There are some in town who find it difficult to get their children to school on account of distance and other reasons; there are a few who do not appear to be deeply interested in giving their children an education or training them in habits of obedience and regularity. The laws concerning attendance are stringent and their enforcement is in your hands, or cases may be reported to the state superintendent. When attendance falls below a reasonable rate, the teachers' effort and the taxpayers' money are being wasted unnecessarily.

The school year has included 34 weeks except in East Piermont, where for local reasons it was made a little shorter. This number is greater than in any other town of this supervisory district, and is probably as long a school as it is wise to undertake at present. The lines of progress for the near future are rather better equipment and improvement in the village building, with possible centralization. These things must come through the town and by special appropriation. Therefore it is not recommended that the total amount of school money be made any greater than last year, but that an appropriation be made for the improvements already suggested, and that the voters manifest their will to have the equipment more complete and satisfactory.

The N. H. Program of Studies has been in force during the year and its use has aided in systemizing and making more efficient the work of your schools. It should be understood that the full effect of such changes can come only gradually. Indeed, not till a generation of scholars has passed through the schools can we have a complete application.

In closing, permit me to thank your board for the consideration and support my work has received. I fully appreciate, also, the loyalty and cooperation of the teachers, and the growing healthy interest of the people in this most important civic duty.

Respectfully submitted,
D. F. CARPENTER.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The school board presents the following report for the fiscal year ending February 15, 1910.

There have been seven schools in session for three terms each. The school year has included thirty-two weeks except at East Piermont. The school has been in session twenty-nine weeks there, giving them six weeks more than last year. Fourteen different teachers have been employed. Three of them teaching the entire year. The whole number of pupils attending school has been ninety-six. Forty boys and fifty-six girls. With but few exceptions the improvement made by these pupils has been a credit to themselves and their teachers.

The work accomplished by the majority of teachers has been very satisfactory. In a few instances the best results have not been attained through lack of discipline. We would request the parents to glance at the "Tardiness Column" in the Statistical Table and endeavor to impress upon the children the importance of punctuality, also the necessity of constant attendance during the terms. We feel confident that our schools would attain a higher standard of merit, if the parents, through visiting the schools, through the examination of the text books, and through co-operation with the children and teachers, would help this work along.

In conclusion, the school board wishes to say that they have endeavored to labor earnestly and consistently for the success of all the schools. Although we would beg to mention that all three members were newly elected to the school board this year, also that according to the laws of 1909, we were unable to employ a superintendent, as no provision was made at the annual school meeting for such a superintendent, in case our town was forced out of the Supervisory System by the other towns. We have therefore divided the superintendent's work among us as advised by the State superintendent. Permit us to thank the parents, teachers and pupils for the consideration and co-operation our work has received.

Respectfully submitted,

MARTHA L. CLARK	}	School

School Superintendent's Report.

To the Piermont School Board:

During the three terms ending February 24, 1911, there have been registered in our schools 128 pupils. Seven school rooms were used in the Spring and Fall terms, and the River Road No. II. school is also in session this Winter term.

Two schools have kept the same teachers throughout the year, Miss Crawford at the River Road No. I., and Miss Gould at the village primary school. The Brook Road school has had a different teacher each term and the lowest percentage of attendance. This winter the membership has been nine, the average attendance 4.88. It hardly seems wise to carry on a school where the expense is so great compared with the results accomplished.

The spirit among our teachers has been good, and faithful, conscientious work has been done.

The reading in our schools is in general the least satisfactory study. Much stress has been laid on this and we feel that our efforts have been rewarded with some measure of success. New reading books have been purchased for five of the grades, and two sets of supplementary reading.

In looking over the old town reports, I find that nearly every year parents have been reminded that their duty in visiting our schools has not been fulfilled, so I will say nothing on the subject.

The great need in our town is a ninth grade provided for our children. Some of our graduates go to Bradford and Haverhill high schools, but in both those towns the children have previously been through nine grades, and ours are seriously handicapped with only eight years of preparation. No wonder many of them soon drop out. For those who cannot attend a high school, we have by no means done our duty.

During this current year every available seat in the Grammar school has been used, and with four grades almost daily some classes must be omitted. Evidently for years back those classes have been too often the reading practice.

An additional grade must mean another room and another teacher. The best plan would be a grammar room with grades VII, VIII and IX; an intermediate room with grades IV, V. and VI, and a primary room with grades I, II and III. To my mind, the most satisfactory arrangement would be a separate building for the primary school, as in most towns, but a room might be added to the present building.

This will mean much additional expense, but it is worth while, and in no way can our town spend money more wisely than in educating our children.

It is especially needful that the change be made this year, since we have fifteen in the eighth grade in the village school and several in other schools who would be sent adrift in June.

One Piermont man has offered to contribute ten dollars toward a new building; perhaps some generous citizen will give a plot of ground, and others will help, that this opportunity may not pass by.

Grade IX should study agriculture in some degree; milk testing, seed testing, soil values, grafting and pruning of fruit trees might easily be studied together by teacher and pupils.

We want our young people to realize the dignity and value of farming, and stay with us as they grow into manhood and womanhood.

Our schools should be supplied with water tanks with faucet outlet, instead of pail and dipper, or what seems more common, trooping into a neighbor's house. No matter how willing the neighbors of our schools may be, we should not allow them to be so thoughtlessly imposed upon.

I feel that music should have a place in our school programs. There are several people in town fitted, and one might be chosen to go, at least to the village school, once a week to teach music. This is too often looked upon as an accomplishment for a few to enjoy, but Shakespeare says, "The man that hath no music in his soul is fit for treason's stratagems and spoils."

With the exception of East Piermont, schools have been in session 34 weeks this year, and have received 71 visits from the superintendent.

In my visits and in meeting school board and parents, almost without exception my experience has been pleasant. The teachers and pupils have been cordial, and suggestions have been kindly received.

Respectfully submitted,

LOUISE S. HORTON.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Piermont School Board :

The year just closing has in many respects been encouraging and satisfactory. Eight schools were in session in the spring term, and nine in the fall and winter terms. Our new primary school building in the village is so very satisfactory that we wish more visitors might have seen how well it is lighted and arranged and examined its new features: slate blackboards, a built in book closet, and a large light basement for indoor recesses on stormy days.

This trial of slate blackboards should prove that instead of repairing again and again our miserable ones it would pay to replace them with a kind that are practically indestructible. A few new ones each year would be a wise investment. The two schools needing them most are the River Road I and the Intermediate room in the village.

I am glad to report that the reading has decidedly improved, whereas that subject was so discouraging last year. During the winter term a few of the teachers have done good work in teaching music, and we hope the number will increase and music will never be omitted in our school programs.

The ninth grade studies this year have been Reading, English, Arithmetic, History, Physical Geography, Civil Government and Spelling. Algebra will be taken up in the Spring term. The study of Agriculture I still feel should be in our school curriculum, and a few minutes each day should be spent in Physical Culture. There is no danger of making our children's shoulders too straight, or their carriage too erect and dignified.

It seems strange that a very small percentage of the visitors recorded in our registers are parents of children in our schools. The teachers will welcome you, and I venture to say you would find it not so much a duty as a pleasure. Parents often get a one-sided, decidedly one sided view of school, if that view is wholly through the children's eyes, and they can show a sympathetic interest in the teacher's work if they visit at least once a year, and that not on a day when the children are "speaking pieces."

The school board has employed 13 different teachers, five of whom have taught the entire year in a very satisfactory manner. Two of our schools are unfortunate in having so few pupils. The East Piermont school has now only three children in its district and the Rodimon school only four.

In most schools the attendance this winter term has been above the average, although the temperature has been so low, but the travelling has been unusually good, and we have had very few stormy days. Four schools have another week of session after this report goes to press, so the table of statistics and Roll of Honor are incomplete.

Schools have been in session 32 weeks, except in East Piermont, 112 different pupils have attended, and the Superintendent has made 79 visits. The relation between teachers and superintendent has invariably been pleasant, and though many pupils were required to repeat a grade this year, they have entered into their work uncomplainingly, and shown marked improvement. Nothing novel or startling has been attempted and our aim is to require thorough work in studies useful for fitting our boys and girls for life. If we have inspired our pupils with a love of knowledge and a desire to continue to be students whether in school or out, we have been highly successful.

Respectfully submitted,

LOUISE S. HORTON.
